

Many Pay Tribute to Rev. M. J. Fitzpatrick

On Fortieth Anniversary of His Ordination To The Priesthood—Kingstonians Attend Dinner.

About 450 friends of the Very Rev. Monsignor Mallick J. Fitzpatrick gathered at a testimonial dinner at the Hotel Astor in New York city on Monday evening of last week to honor him on the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of his ordination to the holy priesthood and the completion of 35 years at the Mission of the Immaculate Virgin at Mount Loretto, Staten Island, of which he has been the director for 27 years. Monsignor Fitzpatrick's labors for the spiritual welfare and material advancement of orphaned and destitute boys and girls of New York city form an outstanding feature amongst the many worthy charitable activities of the archdiocese, and his many friends took advantage of the opportunity afforded by the fortieth anniversary to express to him their felicitations and to extend to him their sincere and heartfelt wishes and prayers that he may be spared for many years to come to preside over the work so dear to his heart and so important and necessary in this metropolitan city.

Among the guests at the dinner were many men and women prominent in the life of the city. Brigadier General Herman A. Metz, former controller of the city, was the chairman, and the Hon. Alfred J. Talley, former judge of the Court of General Sessions, was toast master. Monsignor Fitzpatrick's life of devotion to the children was praised in addresses by Monsignor Lavelle, the Hon. William D. Cunningham, the Rev. Michael J. Larkin, of New Rochelle; the Hon. Cornelius F. Collins, the Rev. John J. Hickey, rector of St. Joseph's Church, and Dr. James J. Walsh.

Monsignor Fitzpatrick sat for two hours and a half while his friends testified in glowing terms to his faithful and untiring service in a lifetime devoted to helping homeless boys and girls find useful trades and occupations. Tears came to his eyes when he was called another Don Bosco and a second St. Vincent de Paul. Finally, at 11:30 o'clock, he rose and said: "My humble modest thanks from this unworthy public, even in my own church."

Letters of congratulation on Monsignor Fitzpatrick's fortieth anniversary were read from His Eminence Cardinal Hayes, Bishop Dunn and Bishop Rummel, of Omaha. The Cardinal in his letter to Monsignor Fitzpatrick said:

"I am very much pleased to learn that the fortieth anniversary of your priesthood, which has been almost entirely devoted to the care of the homeless child, is to be honored by a representative group of citizens of New York."

"No father could have been more devoted to his own children than you have been to the thousands who have passed under your care during the long years."

"Your name will be forever interwoven in homes with that of Father Drumgoole as well as with that of your immediate predecessor, Father Daugherty."

"You have richly deserved to have tribute paid to you, because it is your due."

"It is gratifying to observe that the chairman of the committee in Roman Metz, who as an official proved to be one of the best friends the dependent children of New York ever had."

"Wishing you many more years to continue your Christ-like work, I am faithfully yours."

"P. CARD. HAYES, Archbishop of New York."

Monsignor Fitzpatrick's entire priesthood, his friends pointed out, has been passed in obscure devotion to his one work. Fully 35,000 homeless children have come under his care and have known him as father, and some of them, now grown up, were present at the dinner.

"If my children should see me here tonight," remarked Monsignor Fitzpatrick, "they would say: 'Father, you don't belong here. They have never seen anything like this in their lives.'"

One of the most illuminating tributes was paid by the Rev. John J. Hickey, rector of the Church of St. Joseph, who compared Monsignor Fitzpatrick to Don Bosco, the lover and helper of children, to St. Vincent de Paul, and to Father John C. Drumgoole, who founded the mission eight years before St. Patrick's Cathedral was opened.

Several Cases In Police Court

Jury Tuesday Night Found William Whitaker Not Guilty of Operating a Car While Intoxicated—Other Cases Brought to Court's Attention.

Tuesday evening after a lengthy jury trial in police court, William Whitaker of 17 Liberty street, was found not guilty of operating an automobile while intoxicated and was discharged by Judge Calloton. Whitaker was represented by Attorney N. LeVan Haver, while Attorney Lloyd LeFever appeared for the People. Whitaker had been arrested by Charles Roosa following a collision between the Whitaker car and that of Mrs. Clarence Kelly on Broadway at the intersection of Albany avenue, in which two women were slightly injured.

Ralph Stewart of 69 East Strand was arrested Tuesday on two charges, one of using license plates on his car that had been issued for another car and the other of not having a certificate of registration for the car he was driving. This morning he was fined $2 on each charge.

Harry Storms of 32 Prospect street was arrested at Saugerties on Tuesday on a warrant sworn out by his wife who charged him with being a disorderly person in actually abandoning his wife and baby. Storms informed Judge Calloton he desired to retain a lawyer to look after his interests and the hearing was adjourned to Thursday morning.

Harry Hutton of 5 West Union street, arrested on a warrant sworn out by Clayton Ticefelt, charging Hutton with assault in the third degree, had his hearing adjourned to Thursday morning.

Business Reported On Way to Recovery

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—A varied assortment of data indicating that the trend of business is still upward, appears from mid-October reports of editors of 115 publications, made to Associated Business Papers, Inc.

While the editors failed to find any great forward surge in any line of business, the statistics and reports collected during the first half of the month gave evidence of progress in a number of lines, including building, department store sales, advertising and such general barometers of business as electric power consumption, and the movement of freight.

Small gains in many department stores throughout the country were interpreted as a particularly cheerful sign.

"What makes the picture brighter," says the business papers' summary, "is that for the first time in two years stocks have been brought into correct relation to sales. Analysis of Federal Reserve reports of sales and stocks have shown, ever since the end of 1929, that stocks were failing to decline in the same proportion as sales. This was an unhealthy condition, obviously."

With department store stocks and sales approaching a normal relationship, it is believed "there is much better basis for an assumption that store buying will show an almost immediate response to the quickening consumer demand than was the case six months ago when it was generally believed that store stocks had reached the irreducible minimum."

300 People Enjoyed Standard Oil Talkie

More than 300 people visited Mechanic's Hall, Henry street, Tuesday night, to see and enjoy "Partners," the talkie sponsored by the Standard Oil Company of New York, Inc., to improve upon gas station operators and patrons as well, the importance of service to the public and the efforts put forth by its officials to establish and maintain the service.

The story was built around Tony Graham, who inherited a part interest in a dilapidated service station. At first he was tempted to sell his share, but finding that his partner, a grocer's old fellow, had no means to pay him off and that the Standard Oil officials were willing to help and suggest ways for him to turn the station into profitable enterprise, he went about the task of building up a nice business and finally was successful from two standpoints—he made a comfortable living and married the pretty daughter of his partner who through Tony's vigorous work and financial accomplishments turned into a jolly good fellow.

In the picture there were many valuable hints for operators of service stations and for gasoline customers as well in that it showed them the value of courteous service on the part of attendants, such as taught and demanded by the Standard Oil of men employed in its stations.

Plan Observatory. Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—On a mountain top in the Sinai desert—possibly the same peak on which Moses received the ten commandments—the Smithsonian Institution plans to build a solar observatory. Charles G. Abbott, secretary, in announcing Mount St. Katherine as the chosen site, said its desolate 5,540-foot tip seemed to be the highest and driest accessible spot in the eastern half of the world.

Try Rev. Berrie On Charge Of Murder

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 19 (AP)—Having placed into the trial record testimony of alleged intimacy between the Rev. S. A. Berrie, and the 19-year-old girl whom he later married, the state pressed forward today in efforts to convict the minister of the murder of his first wife.

The state contends the first Mrs. Berrie was killed by poison placed in a sedative capsule by her husband last March. The 32-year-old hymn writing pastor married Ida Bess Bright, pretty teacher in his Cumberland Presbyterian Sunday school, less than two months afterward.

Attired in a neat gray suit, the minister sat composedly through yesterday's long court session, which lasted until nearly midnight. By his side was his young bride, equally calm.

Mrs. Mrs. Lucy Thompson, a member of Berrie's church, County Attorney Phil K. Oldham drew testimony of the minister's attentions to Ida Bess prior to Mrs. Berrie's death. The witness said she saw Berrie grasp the girl's hand in the church study, where she was doing some typing for the minister, and look into her face "in a silly way."

Intimate Relations

Mrs. Thompson also said on one occasion, while visiting the Berrie home, Ida Bess had to be restrained from entering Berrie's room while he was undressed. Another time, she said, she saw the girl in Berrie's lap during an automobile ride.

Miss Louise Preston, 18, testified relations between Berrie and Ida Bess caused her to tell the preacher, "I don't believe in married men going with young girls." Miss Preston identified the manuscripts of two ardent love poems which she said Ida Bess said had been written to her by the minister.

Two physicians, Dr. L. S. McAllister and Dr. J. G. Rafter, both of whom examined Mrs. Berrie when she was stricken with her fatal illness, testified they believed she had been poisoned. Further state testimony related to the chemist's report of the finding of poison in Mrs. Berrie's viscera after exhumation of her body.

GEORGE COVIRT HELD IN $1,500 BAIL BOND

George Covirt, 49, of Hudson, is being held at the Ulster county jail pending the production of a bail bond in the amount of $1,500. Covirt was arrested October 11 by Kingston prohibition office investigators and was arraigned before Commissioner Connelly Tuesday, who held him for district court on a charge of possession and sale, placing bail at $1,500.

Two arrests were made in Poughkeepsie Tuesday, at 46 Dutchess avenue and at 575 Main street. At the former place William H. Settle was arrested and alleged apple and rye whiskey, gin, beer and home brew seized. At the Main street address, in a case adopted from the Poughkeepsie police, alleged whiskey, gin and home brew were seized, but no arrests were made.

C. C. DuMOND DELEGATE TO STATE FARM BUREAU MEET.

C. C. DuMont, of Ulster Park, president of the Farm Bureau, has been chosen as the delegate to represent Ulster county at the State Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting at Syracuse on November 10 and 11. W. T. Jenkins of Clintonville, a director of the Farm Bureau, was chosen alternate. Mr. DuMont will be pleased to receive any resolutions or suggestions members may care to have presented at the Syracuse meeting.

Col. Donovan to Study Farm Problems

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Col. William J. Donovan, Republican gubernatorial nominee, plunged into the heart of the dairy country today after promising in a rally last night to seek solution of state farm problems in conferences with agricultural, industrial and financial leaders.

His schedule for the day called for visits and speeches at Lowville, Carthage and Deferiet and an evening rally at Watertown. His plans were to lay stress on the Republican platform proposal to organize a milk bureau to act as a mediation body in disputes between producers and the agencies handling the milk.

Speaking of the dairy farmer last night, the candidate said: "If we compare the average cost of producing fluid milk on the farm with the average return to all the dairy farmers of the state, it is apparent that these farmers do not average within twenty-five cents to fifty cents per one hundred pounds to meet their bare production cost, excluding interest on investment, depreciation and profit."

Vengeance Came 4,000 Miles to Kill

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—The homicide squad says it was really a barrel stave, wielded in sudden anger on a pier in distant Sicily one day in 1923, that brought Joseph Spoto to his death in Brooklyn today.

Spoto, 62 years old and a longshoreman, was sitting alone in his two-room flat last night, eating spaghetti cooked by his own hand, and drinking wine. Some one opened the door, fired two shots into his body and departed quietly. Spoto died at a hospital without regaining consciousness.

It was revenge, detectives said, thrusting through Spoto's effects, they found an Italian legal paper which they said told this story:

In Sicily, Spoto was an overseer in a coopership in the port of Milazzo. One day he and one Frank Foti fell into an argument, which ended abruptly when Spoto picked up a stove and brought it down on Foti's head, killing him.

Twelve years in penal servitude was the sentence passed on Spoto. The document showed that the court of assizes at Messina upheld the sentence—but there the record stopped.

Detectives, filling it in with their own deductions, believe that Spoto escaped and fled to this country. He went into hiding, cooking his own meals in the little flat, rarely venturing out.

Some friend or relative of Foti's, they say, trailed Spoto 4,000 miles to New York, found his hiding place among the city's seven millions, and did him to death.

Foreign Subsidies Weaken Missions

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—The appraisal commission sent to the Far East by seven Protestant denominations which donate $15,000,000 annually to mission work reported today that its survey showed subsidy of mission churches by home churches had introduced "an element of commercialism into the very inner courts of the church."

Today's report was one of a series being issued by the commission on its findings concerning mission conditions in China, Japan, India and Burma.

"It is doubtful whether any single thing," it read, "has brought weakness in life and morale to the missionary church to the same extent that the payment of foreign subsidies has done."

"It has introduced an element of commercialism into the very inner courts of the church."

"It has tended to produce parasites, it has cut the nerve of forward moving adventure on the part of those who should have been the leaders of the indigenous church, and it has often given an undue influence to the missionaries who dispensed it."

The commission acknowledged that in "solitary cases" subsidies have been "a blessing," but it added the opinion that no church in any land will be robust and virile until it supports itself out of its own resources through its own endeavors.

Presbyterians Test Trustees as Cooks

Elmendorf Street Men Bar Women from Kitchen for First Supper of Year—First Step Taken to Form Men's Club.

Something new in the way of church dinners is planned for Thursday night in the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian church when a Five-Cent Supper, prepared and served by the trustees of the church, will be offered to the general public.

Efforts to determine to what the five-cent ticket entitles the holder have been answered only by a knowing smile by the officers. In answer they point to the tickets which read: "Why only five cents? That's the mystery!"

An answer is believed to be found, however, in the announcement that it will be a cafeteria supper. This would indicate a "fixed price" for each dish and bring the cost of an entire meal within the range of every pocketbook. But even this the trustees will neither affirm nor deny.

On the menu will be chowder and numerous other dishes aimed both to whet the appetite and to fortify the "inner man" against the blasts of a chilly October.

The dinner marks the first corporate activity of the church men for some time and signals the early organization of a men's club. This was planned at an informal meeting a month ago, but contrary to the usual rule the program was arranged first with the formal organization of the group to be effected later. In planning to use men exclusively as cooks, servers and "kitchen police," the men are doing nothing new.

Several times they have astonished the public with their cooking ability and many a wife has heretofore been surprised at the previously concealed ability of her husband in the kitchen.

The supper will be the first one served in the church this fall. Here again the men are getting ahead of the women's program of the year. It is believed that a Five-Cent Supper, under whatever plan this cost will be applied to meal or separate dishes, is something new in Kingston.

"Novely, however, does not fascinate us," as Harford Skutis, one of the committee in charge, declared. Whereupon Chester Balts and Charles Saxeod were in competition attempting to report the first dinner to be served by men, when for the first time in the history of Kingston churches a dollar was charged. "This was when Dr. Harry P. Van Wageningen planned and executed a chicken dinner with all the trimmings. No women were allowed to spy out the activities in the church kitchen. To satisfy their curiosity they had to pay a dollar. They did. Both curiosity and hunger were appeased. No one then believed a church could get that much for a dinner. They found they could and soon all churches adopted it."

"If history repeats itself," William T. Norwood hinted at the meeting, "all the other churches will soon be serving Five-Cent Suppers." This gave the trustees an idea, and they adjourned. They were last seen looking for a patent lawyer to copyright the idea.

A. P. KAPLAN CHAIRMAN OF ACCORD COMMITTEE

A. P. Kaplan was chosen chairman of the Farm Bureau committee in the Accord community at a meeting held Tuesday night at the home of Edward Davenport. Mr. Kaplan succeeds Mr. Davenport as chairman. V. A. Barnhart of Accord was elected as a new member of the committee. Other members of the committee are John Schoonmaker and H. M. Eppes.

Accord is a very important poultry center and a meeting will be arranged in the near future to discuss the Hudson valley egg auction. Later in the winter other poultry meetings to discuss diseases will be arranged. A dairy meeting will also be held.

Mr. Kaplan will represent the community on the county poultry committee and John Schoonmaker will represent the dairymen. The membership drive will be in charge of the committee.

Reynolds Kin Not To Aid Murder Case

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 19 (AP)—On the shoulders of Salt River, N. C. Higgins today tested the responsibility whether Libby Higgins, man Reynolds, Broadway singer and Albert Walker shall be tried for the murder of Libby's young millionaire's husband, Smith Reynolds.

Higgins admitted he was considering the advisability of not trying the case after receiving a letter informing him the Reynolds family, which amassed a fortune in tobacco, does not desire the case to go to trial.

"The evidence fails to prove conclusively that Smith was murdered," W. N. Reynolds, uncle and guardian of Smith, said in the letter. "All of us would be quite happy," he continued, "if it should be your decision to drop the case."

Twenty-year-old Smith was fatally wounded by a pistol shot at the family estate here early on the morning of July 6 after a party. Several weeks later Mrs. Reynolds, his bride of a few months, and Walker, 19, Smith's life-long chum, were indicted for his murder. Both are at liberty under $25,000 bonds.

No date for their trial has been set, partially because the young widow, who gained fame on Broadway as a Blues singer, is an expectant mother.

Higgins emphasized that he would make his own decision on the matter of bringing the case to trial "regardless of who wants this or that one. That's my responsibility and I intend to follow it," he said.

Roosevelt Called Reckless by Stimson

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, urging reelection of President Hoover, says that his program to save our "trotting institutions" during the "terrible financial panic" last winter was without precedent in "its comprehensiveness, courage and originality."

"With the adoption of these measures, the panic ceased," Stimson said last night in an address at the National Republican Club.

Attacking Governor Roosevelt, he asserted that when the hope of recovery was hanging in the balance "Mr. Roosevelt made an attack upon this beneficent process which had just begun."

"He made a speech on the 'forgotten man' in which he said funds which the reconstruction finance corporation was distributing were not reaching the small people and the small banks and institutions of the country but were being put solely at the disposition of the big banks, the railroads and the big corporations."

Mr. Stimson said this "incredibly reckless" statement was a "complete misstatement of facts" and that Roosevelt has since, in part, retracted it. He said that by this speech Roosevelt "not only dealt a blow at our recovery, but he had shown that he could seek to inflame class prejudices at the very time when other men, regardless of party, were seeking to serve the nation."

Bruised Heads Tell Of Rioting Jobless

London, Oct. 19 (AP)—Scores of policemen and unemployed nursed battered heads today as a result of a seven-hour bloody battle which ended late last night in the historic Lambeth section, just across the Thames from the House of Parliament.

Hour after hour, stones and other missiles were heaved at police by the crowd, which was striving to cross the river to hold a demonstration in Parliament Square. The police charged and recharged, wounding their clubs vigorously.

Toward the end, groups of youths looted shops in the neighborhood, crashing in windows and making off with clothing and other goods on display.

The beginning of the demonstration was quiet enough. Banners waved, bands blared and the crowds moved along under police escort. Then came a rush for the Westminster bridgehead. The police hurriedly called for motor reinforcements and for the first time used automobiles to block the streets against a crowd.

A check showed 29 policemen were severely injured and many others suffered minor injuries. Eight of the rioters were seriously hurt and probably scores of others less so. Thirty men were arrested.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD HEAD TO VOTE FOR HOOVER

Philadelphia, Oct. 19 (AP)—General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, expects "to vote for Mr. Hoover and to work for his re-election," he has declared in a statement issued, he said, as a reply to inquiries from railway employees "as to the wise policy to follow."

He added that "all of our employees are of course at liberty to vote as they think best" and said he felt that re-election of the President would "be in the best interest of the country." The statement was issued last night.

Negligence Action Is Sent To Jury

At the opening of supreme court this morning continued to the negligence action brought by Emma D. Hodkin, as administratrix, etc., of John A. Hodkin against Robert R. Rade, summed up and the court charged the jury.

The action grew out of the death of Mr. Hodkin who suffered fatal injuries when a flagpole which he was painting broke.

Jurors not engaged in the action on trial were excused until noon.

Judge Ellis added no further cases to the day calendar and stated that no additions would be made until he learned what action was to be taken on equity cases which have been moved for trial. These equity cases will be called again Thursday morning.

Judge Ellis again stated to counsel that he believed it more important that jury cases be disposed of next week. In this district he said were three official referees who were willing to hear equity cases or if counsel preferred by counsel to hear equity actions.

Equity cases he said could be disposed of by reference or by the three official referees at any time but jury cases could be tried only at the regular trial terms. Rather than devote a week to trial of cases without a jury the judge stated he would rather continue jury cases next week.

The day calendar is:

No. 4, The People of the State of New York, ex rel. etc., against Robert F. Charlton, a quo warranto proceeding involving the election of Mr. Charlton as supervisor of the town of Kingston.

Nos. 15, 24, 29, 45, 46½, 53, 56, 57, 58, 60, 61, 68 and 71.

EXCELSIOR HOSE CO. TO PRESENT "HENRY'S WEDDING"

"Henry's Wedding," sensational comedy of a bachelor bridegroom, will be staged in the Kingston High School auditorium on November 3 and 4. This community entertainment with a local cast of 200 people is sponsored by Excelsior Hose Company, No. 4, and staged by the Universal Producing Company under the personal direction of Miss Margaret Munro.

The committee in charge under the leadership of William B. Martin, Sr., as general chairman, are busy selecting the cast and making plans for the entertainment which promises to be one of the greatest amateur shows ever staged in Kingston. Rehearsals will start soon and the cast which will be composed of the best "talent" in Kingston will be announced in a few days. The comedy has a wide reputation as a laugh riot. Beside the play proper there will be a large chorus, the great specialty "Beaus and Belles of Grandma's Time", with 40 prominent men and the "Mystic Shrine" 40 leading singers.

Badly slashed by an angry husband on Main street, Walkkill, Monday noon, Mrs. Joseph Lenardi is in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, for cuts about the face, hands and body.

Police are searching for Joseph Lenardi, 38, whose address is given as 255 Chestnut Lane, Grantwood, N. J. Lenardi is accused of first degree assault, and the Highland State Police, under Sergeant John Lockhart, have broadcast his description via teletype.

Lenardi was said to be wearing light colored clothes and a light cap at the time of the assault. No further developments concerning his whereabouts having been disclosed by the police.

Mrs. Lenardi is reported as resting comfortably in the Newburgh hospital this morning.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Oct. 19 (AP)—Carrying his presidential campaign into the Pittsburgh district—"The workshop of the world"—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived by special train at 9 a. m. today.

The Democratic standard bearer was met by a throng. He prepared to leave immediately by motor for Wheeling, W. Va., where he will speak this afternoon. After the Wheeling meeting, he will return to Pittsburgh for an address tonight.

Despite the presence of scores of police, state and railroad officers augmenting county and city detectives, several hundred men were to march through police lines and take up a position along the tracks.

Presbyterian children in entertainment Friday.

A number of the children of the Sunday school of the Rockport Presbyterian church will take part in a Colonial entertainment, in the Time of Washington, in the chapel of the church on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A nominal admission will be charged and the program will be on sale at the close of the entertainment, which is given for the benefit of the juvenile department of the annual church fair and turkey dinner.

Further Study of Prison Site Cost

The Republican Legislative Committee investigating Gov. Roosevelt's administration, yesterday plunged into a detailed analysis of values involved in the purchase of the 556-acre site for the new medium security prison in Wallkill Valley for which, it is charged, the state paid $61,000 more than the officially appraised value.

Dr. Walter N. Thayer, Jr., state commissioner of correction, who was interrogated in detail concerning the transaction, defended it at every point. At one time, an expression of resentment from him at any implication that he might have been wronged drew a concession from Senator Clayton R. Lusk, counsel to the committee, that no such suspicion was entertained.

At another point, Senator Lusk explained:

"We are not after scandal, we are trying to save the state's dollars."

Definite indication that the Republican investigation has aroused more than a cursory interest in the ranks of Democratic leadership came yesterday with the appearance of Assemblyman Irwin Steingut, Democratic leader of the lower house of the legislature. Mr. Steingut took an active part in the proceedings, even to the extent of requesting Senator Lusk to rephrase certain questions.

Besides Commissioner Thayer, other witnesses were W. A. Jenner and E. J. Pooler, the two appraisers on the Wallkill prison site.

The latter part of the day's inquiry was devoted largely to an interrogation of Commissioner Thayer concerning his connection with the purchase and his views on paying the price.

LEND MILLIONS, BUT HAS NO REAL MONEY

R. F. C. Unique Superbank Designed to Aid Business.

Washington. — A giant super-bank that looks and acts like none of the other banks in the world. In a few short months it has out-stretched all of them in size and power.

It is doing a land office business in Washington these days, writes M. L. Kinsley in the Chicago Herald-Examiner.

This super-bank is the Reconstruction Finance corporation, which Congress created to ease the country through the depression. It is unique, something new under the governmental and financial sun.

Not a dollar of real money passed through it. No gold, no stacks of bills, no tellers' windows, appear anywhere on the nine floors of an office building which it has taken over and almost filled.

Directors Not Bankers.

Two of the seven men directing its operations are not professional bankers. Several of the others, before their appointment as R. F. C. directors, were only "part-time" bankers. They gave most of their attention to other lines of business.

Yet the corporation has a capital of $500,000,000.

In seven months it has loaned about $1,500,000,000. That is just twice as much as was disbursed by the War Finance corporation in its entire career.

The R. F. C. holds power of life and death over many of the country's banks, and in the recent era of bank failures went to the rescue of more than 4,000 of them with loans of more than $300,000,000.

It is the overlord of a $1,500,000,000 construction fund which it fully used, might make jobs for 2,000,000 men.

By lending funds to hold stored cotton off the market, it has buttressed cotton prices so the farmer may get more for his crop, and begin to buy clothing, furniture and farm machinery.

All these things the corporation achieves with pieces of paper, but paper backed by the vast credit of the United States government. It authorizes a borrower, whether a state, a big city bank, or a struggling building and loan association, to draw upon the treasury.

The treasury raises the funds by selling to investors its notes or certificates. It accepts from the corporation R. F. C. debentures, or promises to pay. When the R. F. C. ultimately collects the loans it has made, it will pay off these debentures. Meanwhile the R. F. C. holds as security for its loans the mortgages or other assets—some of them "frozen"—it has taken from its borrowers' collateral.

New Loans Are Made.

Scattered over the country it has 33 local agencies, each with a manager and a volunteer advisory committee of bankers and business men.

A force of examiners at R. F. C. headquarters here checks up the loan applications and makes its recommendations. A board of review, above the examiners, does likewise. Then the application goes to the R. F. C.'s seven directors for approval or rejection.

Money for relief, or for construction projects, is obtained in somewhat the same way. A relief director, who has a small field investigating force, canvasses all applications thoroughly before they go to the directors for action.

A new branch is in process of creation to lend a hand to the farmer. Many farmers have a surplus of grain, much live stock and plenty of debts, but no money and no credit. It compelled to pay their debts at once, they must butcher their live stock at ruinous prices.

The plan is to tide them over with "federal" loans. They will feed part of their grain to the live stock, which will be sold only after it has been fattened.

Racing of Motorcycles

Madrid.—Dirt track motorcycle racing, known here simply as "dirt track," introduced to the country several years ago by British racers, is getting more popular. The innovation of a feminine racer has been introduced this season for the benefit of the fans.

A mixture of motorcycle racing and bullfighting was recently performed in a night burlesque bullfight at Alcala.

Two riders, advertised as "Mister Bagway" and "Mister Aresca," attempted to kill their bulls while riding motorcycles, but the bulls pre-empted this by knocking over their mounts, so that the riders had to kill them on foot. The spectacle did not arouse much enthusiasm.

Tube of Toothpaste Is

Clew to Stolen Loot

Niagara Falls, N. Y. — A woman's unusual manner of squeezing a toothpaste tube brought about the arrest of three men here, charged with robbing four American tourists.

The tourists, Henry Beall, Harry Garner, Mabel Garner, and Frances King, all of Washington, were robbed of $80 in cash, watches, and other belongings. In describing her belongings to officials, Mrs. Garner mentioned the tube of toothpaste. The men arrested were alleged to have had this tube in their possession.

Canada's Highest Falls

Yoho National park, in British Columbia, on the west slope of the Rockies, is rich in scenery. The Takahwah falls in the Yoho valley are among the outstanding points of interest. This waterfall is the highest in Canada.

Many Pay Tribute To Rev. M. J. Fitzpatrick

R. F. C. Unique Superbank Designed to Aid Business.

think that Father Fitzpatrick was it. "I think that all of you here, at least most of you, are quite well aware that I have a rather good estimation of myself; but it quite took my breath away to find how much more my uncle thought of me because he had found out that I have been even a little intimate in friendship while at school with dear Father Fitzpatrick."

"All of this came flooding back to me when I heard of the dinner that was to be given in honor of Father Fitzpatrick's honor, and how all when I was told that the committee wanted me to speak on this occasion."

About fifty priests of New York and Brooklyn were present, including Monsignor Crowley, Monsignor Belford, Monsignor Peter Donohue, Monsignor O'Brien, Monsignor Cashin, the Rev. Bryan J. McEneaney, representing Catholic Charities; the Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, representing the Catholic Home Bureau; and the Catholic Guardian Society; the Rev. Richard B. Cushman, the Rev. James Flood, the Rev. Timothy J. Shanley, the Rev. John T. Jordan, the Rev. Edward J. Higgins, the Rev. Thomas J. McCloskey, S. J., the Rev. M. A. Reilly, the Rev. William J. Courtney, the Rev. P. X. Delany, S. J., the Rev. Peter J. McCarty, S. J., the Rev. Peter J. Harold, who was an associate of Monsignor Fitzpatrick at Mount Loretto many years ago; the Rev. A. A. Cahill, the Rev. John J. O'Donnell, the Rev. John Regan, the Rev. P. J. Miller, the Rev. Philip Magrath, the Rev. James E. Byrne, the Rev. Francis O'Neill.

At the data table were General Herman A. Metz, chairman; the Hon. Alfred J. Talley, toastmaster; the Very Rev. Monsignor Mallick J. Fitzpatrick, the Right Rev. Monsignor Michael J. Lavelle, the Hon. William D. Cunningham, the Rev. Michael J. Larkin, the Hon. Cornelius F. Collins, the Rev. John J. Hickey, James J. Walsh, M.-D., Ph. D., Victor F. Ridder, John T. Loughran.

Other prominent laymen and women were the Hon. Morgan J. O'Brien, James A. Beha, John H. McCooey, Brig. Gen. Frederick W. Baldwin, Dr. Richard Kevin, Cornelius J. Curtin, Francis P. Duffy, Mrs. Thomas F. McParlan, Miss Frances McParlan, Miss Mary Godley, William J. McKiever, John J. Doherty, John Donnelly, R. Henry Dewey and Mrs. Dewey, William J. Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. O'Shea, George W. Loft, Grover A. Whalen, James Burke, Mrs. William D. Cunningham, Charles H. Ridder, Edward J. McGuire, Edward F. Boyle, Arthur Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hirtzen, Henry McAlleenan, Jr., Kenneth McAlleenan, Henry Haggerty.

The Very Rev. Monsignor Fitzpatrick was born in High Falls, Ulster county, the son of the late Edward Fitzpatrick and the late Mary Whalen Fitzpatrick. His childhood and youth were spent in Ulster county until he entered St. John's College, Fordham, from which he was graduated with the class of 1918.

Having then entered St. Joseph's Seminary at Troy, N. Y., he became the classmate and the lifelong friend of His Eminence, the present Cardinal Archbishop of New York.

Monsignor Fitzpatrick's first assignment as a priest was to the Church of St. John the Evangelist in New York from which he returned to Ulster county to assist the distinguished and learned Right Rev. Monsignor Richard L. Burtwell, D. D., who was then pastor of St. Mary's Church in this city.

After spending a few happy years with Dr. Burtwell and with the Rev. John J. Hickey, who was also assigned to St. Mary's Church, Monsignor Fitzpatrick was assigned by the late Archbishop Corrigan to the Mission of the Immaculate Virgin, an assistant to its then rector, the Rev. James J. Dougherty.

After Father Dougherty's death, the late Cardinal Farley, who was then Archbishop of New York, recognizing his qualifications for the position, appointed Monsignor Fitzpatrick as the third rector of the mission.

So that more than thirty-five years of Monsignor Fitzpatrick's priestly life have been spent at Mount Loretto, either as an assistant or as its rector, and during that time, the institution has grown in size and importance, until now it is the largest Catholic child-caring institution in the State of New York.

In the thirty-five years that have passed since his appointment to Mount Loretto, Monsignor Fitzpatrick has had charge, not only of its manifold child-caring activities, but has supervised the publication and dissemination of the Mount Loretto Messenger, and the more widely circulated and well known Homeless Child. And besides these exacting duties he has faithfully administered to the welfare of the poor colored children committed to St. Benedict's Home at Rye.

In order to show the approval of the Apostolic See of the care given by the Very Reverend guest to the more than 30,000 boys and girls of different races and creeds who have passed under his care, both at Mount Loretto and at St. Benedict's Home in Rye, His Holiness, the present Pontiff, graciously raised Monsignor Fitzpatrick to his present ecclesiastical rank.

Monsignor Fitzpatrick is the third director of the Mission of the Immaculate Virgin. The founder was the saintly Father Drumgoole, the second director was the Rev. James J. Dougherty, and on the death of Father Dougherty in 1904 Monsignor Fitzpatrick was appointed to direct the mission.

The following Kingstons attended the dinner: Hon. John T. Loughran, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Cook and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. John F. Larkin, Edward T. McGill, Miss Mary E. McGill, James F. Dwyer, William C. Hickey, E. Frank Flanagan, Miss Isabel V. Flanagan, Mrs. John M. Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas D. Murphy, John P. Whalen and Frank J. McCordle of Rosendale.

Among former Ulster county residents were: Hon. and Mrs. William D. Cunningham, Thomas J. Whalen, the Very Rev. John J.

STATEMENT OF FACTS CONCERNING THIS SALE

BY THE OWNER

During the past year I made up my mind that at the start of this season I was going to plan ONE GREAT SALES EVENT to gain more customers.

For months I have combed the markets buying lavishly where I could get first quality, up to the minute styles, and at rock bottom prices.

Now all this merchandise is in my store and ready for sale. Friday at 9:30, I throw my store open with the greatest array of genuine bargains this or any other store ever offered to gain the needed 3,000 new and permanent customers.

Mind you, I am not looking for profit, what I want and need is more customers and I am taking this manner of obtaining them.

Remember it's a store wide event and every department participates with the lowest prices possible quality considered.

I sincerely hope to find you in the happy throng I know will be here opening day.

Yours for Values

Scout Campaign Nets $1,355 1st Day

At a dinner of the workers held in the First Dutch Church Tuesday evening reports of results of the first day's work in the Scout Scout campaign were received from Kingston city workers and three towns outside the city. Total receipts reported were $1,355.75, of which over $500 was subscribed by friends of the scouts in the city of Kingston. Carlskill reported a total for the first day of $378. Cairo had received subscriptions amounting to $137 and Leeds reported that they had gone over their quota, $125, on the first day.

Mayor Eugene B. Carey and Clarence S. Schoonmaker of the Y. M. C. A. were the speakers at the Tuesday night meeting. They both endorsed the cause as a worthy one and urged its support.

Tonight the dinner meeting will be held at St. Mary's Hall, Broadway and McEstate streets starting at 8:30.

Free Soil Test May Save Money

Farmers who are planning to apply lime to any of their fields this fall may save considerable money if they will first have the soil tested for lime requirement, says Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau. Requests for this service should be made directly to the Farm Bureau, 74 John street, Kingston.

Last spring several hundred samples were taken. In several cases the owner planned to use lime, but none was needed for clover or alfalfa. All legumes need a fairly sweet soil but if there is sufficient lime present, the cost of applying more is not warranted. On some farms the saving amounted to over $50 reports Mr. Kurdt.

Only Two More Days Of Registration

Friday and Saturday of this week are the last two days of registration for the November election. For some unexplained reason there has been a falling off of over a thousand in the registration for the first two days of this year as against the registration of the first two days in 1928.

Friday morning the polls in the various wards will open at 10 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 10 o'clock that night. On Saturday the polls will open at 7 o'clock and close at 10 o'clock that night.

MODENA
Modena, Oct. 19.—The Modena farmers held their regular dance in the Community Hall Friday evening of the past week. They report a fine attendance.

Many people from this place attended the exhibition of antique flying, aerial stunts and dead-stick landings at the Tri-State airport in Montgomery Sunday afternoon.

Registration was held in the Community Hall Saturday of the past week.

Miss Ethel Loxter of Sarilton was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward last week.

Ether Smith and Fred Evans of the Danville State Hospital motored from Pennsylvania Friday and spent a few days in town.

A number of local people attended the card party in the Plattkill Grange Saturday evening. Mrs. Rulke Ward, Mrs. Burton Ward, and Mrs. Edward Hartney of this place, and Mrs. Eugene Paltridge of Ardona composed the committee in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coy were visitors in Kingston Friday.

Thomas Reilly was in Kingston Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Degrodt and family have moved into the tenant house of J. Griffith.

A portion of the Griffith farm has been sold, whereon a new house will be erected.

Arnold Devereaux motored to Catskill, N. Y., Friday evening.

Miss Ethel Courter visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wygant Courter, during the past week.

Mrs. Harry Paltridge called on Mrs. Archie Mackey Saturday afternoon.

A second detour is being prepared on the west end of the construction work on the new railroad bridge.

Plans are complete for the card party to be held in the club house of the Young Men's Social Club Friday evening.

Luther Fowler of Ardona has been employed by C. Mathieson, in painting the roofs on the farm barns.

The Modena Post Office and the supplies of J. E. Hasbrouck and Co. Inc., hardware store, have been moved to the small store owned by Mr. Hasbrouck, north of the Modena garage.

CREEK LOCKS
Creek Locks, Oct. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kostecki spent a pleasant evening at the "Idle Hour on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Thomas Graham spent one day recently with her mother, Mrs. John Yonnett.

School was closed on Columbus Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jaquin and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Melos spent Sunday in Hollis and Freeport, L. I.

Mrs. George Weeks of Bloomingtown was a caller in this place on Friday.

Mrs. Vincent Coffey of Syracuse spent several days with her mother, Mrs. Anna Walsh.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leim and family have moved to New Jersey, where Mr. Leim has a position. They have rented their attractive bungalow to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bombover and family.

Miss Jessie Utter, who has been spending the past six seasons here, has moved into Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huseman's bungalow, recently vacated by the Bombover family.

Mrs. Raymond Ackert, Miss Jessie Utter and Mrs. J. Engleken called Sunday on Mrs. Martha Weimar, who is not very well.

Mrs. Robert Haughey of Garden City, L. I., and Mrs. Fred Huseman of Brooklyn motored up here to take their sister, Mrs. Martha Weimar, to the Benedictine Hospital for a minor operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sagar and their ward, Connie Auchmoody, motored to Auburn, N. Y., and spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sagar and family.

Carl Leim, Jr., expects to remain in Creek Locks for about a month. He is making his home for the time being with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bombover.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bombover held a house warming on October 17. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Michish and several relatives were present.

SAYS FACTS IN NORRIS STATEMENT ARE ACCURATE
Topeka, Oct. 19 (AP).—Donald Richberg, attorney for Labor interests, said in an interview here today that remarks made last night by Senator Norris, in which the Nebraska asserted Secretary Doak had suggested he "might be able to exert a great deal of influence" to obtain Richberg a federal judgeship, were "absolutely accurate."

"As a matter of fact," Richberg said during a brief train stop here, "I told Senator Norris the facts at the time they occurred and since then have confirmed them in a memorandum to him. I felt at the time I might be placed in a false position."

Richberg, en route to Phoenix, Ariz., said he had not received a telegram from Doak in which the latter branded Norris's assertion as "utterly false" and said he could not believe that you made any such representations to Senator Norris.

HYMES AND VAN DYKE RECEIVE SENTENCES
Adolph Hymes, 27, of 99 Gage street, Kingston, and William A. Van Dyke, 31, of Hasbrouck avenue, were committed to the Ulster county jail today by Justice Theodore A. Van of Poughkeepsie. Hymes got $10 or ten days for driving while intoxicated and Van Dyke $5 or five days for public intoxication.

First Valley Egg Auction A Success

The first Hudson valley egg auction was a decided success, from both the standpoint of the poultryman and the buyer of eggs, according to Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau. All the poultrymen who consigned eggs to the market were congratulated. The official state inspector who graded the eggs stated that they were of the best average quality he had ever seen on any market. A total of 53 cases were sold, of which 43 came from Ulster county.

Eggs Tracked.
The contract for tracking eggs to Poughkeepsie has been awarded to Styles Express of Cortkill and Oscar Wolven of Saugerties. The agencies cover practically the entire county except the southern portion. If demand warrants another route may be established. The bulk of the eggs were delivered on Monday.

Regular trucking dates are Monday and Thursday. A lot number was assigned to each producer shipping eggs and they were weighed, graded and properly marked. A few poultrymen delivered their own eggs Thursday morning.

Prices and Quality Good.

The auction was started promptly at 1:30 with a large number of buyers and poultrymen present. The first lot of Grade A large eggs consisting of two cases brought a price of 41 cents. The following comparison for New York top prices yesterday compared with auction prices will be of interest: In New York, Standards brought 38 cents compared with 41 on the auction, in New York Mediums were 29 and 34 on the auction; Pullets 24 in New York compared with 30 and 31. Part of this margin is explained by the exceptional quality of the eggs sold on the auction. The advantages in favor of poultrymen is very marked. In addition to the higher price brought on the auction, the expense of selling the eggs is from three to four cents less per dozen than it is in New York. As long as the quality is maintained.

The directors of the auction are not worried about its future. The prices for the quality eggs is so much better that poultrymen will be anxious to become members of the auction and consign eggs.

Next Auction Friday.
Auctions will be held every Tuesday and Friday at the auction building on the corner of Gates and Laurel streets in Poughkeepsie. This is one block south of the bridge approach, a very convenient location for both buyers and poultrymen who care to visit the auction. The committee urges that all poultrymen visit the auction at some future auction.

Organization of a non-partisan committee of physicians of the state in support of Col. William J. Donovan, the Republican gubernatorial nominee, was announced Tuesday with a large roster of World War medical officers, enrolled under the Donovan banner. Col. Edward H. Maloney, war time Division Surgeon of the 27th Division, is chairman of this committee, and Captain Martin De F. Smith, the commanding officer of the 167th Ambulance Company in this division, is secretary.

Committee members from Kingston and vicinity include: Maj. William J. Cranston, Capt. Fred Snyder of Kingston, Maj. Moses Stevens, Capt. J. R. Bradner of Middletown, Lieut. C. Breaker of Monticello and Lieut. Lester H. McAllister of Port Jervis.

AGRICULTURE

Pound for pound, pine wood gives off more heat than hickory.

Uncle Ab says he is sometimes inclined to think that weather, rather than character, prompts some of a man's acts.

Agricultural engineers say that a man who is clever enough to make a coop for a hen and chickens can install running water in the kitchen.

The twelve-week winter course of the New York state college of agriculture begins November 2. Instruction is offered in general farming, dairy, manufacturing dairy products, fruit growing, vegetable growing, bee keeping, farm managing and marketing.

Thirty-seven and one-half pounds of eggs were laid by the winning pullet in the western New York egg-laying contest. That is equivalent to 310 eggs, weighing twenty-four ounces to the dozen, or more than eight times the weight of the hen that laid them.

Black-rot and cabbage yellows can not be told apart in the cabbage field. If either disease is suspected, take samples to your county agricultural agent for black rot can be controlled by seed treatment; the only remedy for yellows is a resistant variety.

The state college and experiment stations broadcast a noon-hour farm program from WESG, formerly WEAL, each week day. A printed program which lists the talks from the sixteen departments at the college is now available on request to the state college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

Kingston: "Tiger Shark". When Edward G. Robinson appears in a picture, past performances prove that the picture will have an abundance of excitement plus some superb acting. This talkie is no exception for it lives up to the Robinson standard in every way. In the role of the braggart, colorful Portuguese Mike, Mr. Robinson is given full opportunity of proving his versatility. It's a story of the sea, with some of the finest sailing scenes ever filmed. The play hasn't a dull moment, and Richard Arlen and Zita Johann are splendid in supporting roles.

Orpheum: "Dark Horse". A laugh riot that discusses present day politics, politicians, and all those things that make for an election success. Warren William as the campaign manager of a none too intelligent candidate played by Guy Kibbee contributes some excellent acting. Betty Davis is also in the cast.

Broadway: "Love Bound" and "Probation". A double feature billing. The first talkie features Jack Mulhall and Natalie Moorehead. The second play offers Sally Blane and John Darrow.

Tomorrow.
Kingston: "The Crash". Romance and the depression, with Ruth Chatterton and George Brent. It is a story of high finance, the stock market, and the market crash that everyone will remember. George Brent is a young financier, Miss Chatterton is his luxury loving wife. The star has a chance to do some of her best emoting in this talkie, and takes full advantage of the opportunity. George Brent is as fascinating as ever in the role of the youthful business man.

Orpheum: Same.
Broadway: "Hot Harlem". A colored revue, is the stage attraction, and "But the Flesh is Weak" with Robert Montgomery is the screen offering. A cast of 35 people comprises the stage show, a dancing, singing, colored novelty with several well known featured artists. Ralph Cooper and his orchestra, Matt Hite, Gail DeGaston and George Williams, Sam Sam and Sam, Carrie Marrero, and Alice Dixon are among them. "But the Flesh is Weak" is a risqué comedy drama of the young gentleman whose aim in life is to marry some lady with enough money to allow him a luxurious living the remainder of his life. As is true of life, he falls in love with a poor widow, Robert Montgomery, Heather Thatcher, Nils Asther, Eleanor Greger and Edward Everett Horton are in the cast.

Mrs. Grace Terhune Inherits.
New York, Oct. 18.—(Special)—Mrs. Grace Terhune of Clintondale, N. Y., is the recipient of a fourth of the estate left by her mother, the late Mrs. Anna G. Pennington, of Yonkers, according to the findings here today of the New York State Transfer Tax Department. The value of the bequest is $2,405. Two sons and another daughter, all of Yonkers, share equally. Mrs. Pennington died August 26, 1931. Her estate was appraised today at $14,726 gross value and $9,618 net. The First National Bank and Trust Company of Yonkers is executor.

Dance at Cottickill.
The Cottickill Volunteer Fire Company will hold another of its popular and modern old fashioned dances in its new fire house on Wednesday evening, October 26. Music will be by "Floyd and Mike." Dancing from 9 to 1. There is plenty of good parking space for cars, plenty of hangers and shelves for coats and hats. The public is very cordially invited to attend and help the firemen to raise funds with which to buy a motorized chemical outfit.

Hot Chicken Supper.
Cottickill, Oct. 19.—On Thursday evening, October 20, the Cottickill Reformed Church will hold its hot chicken supper. They will be ready to serve at 5:30 o'clock and will continue until all are served. The supper consists of hot chicken, biscuits, mashed potatoes and gravy, baked beans, sweet potatoes, peas, cabbage salad, celery, cranberries, pickles, gingerbread with whipped cream, coffee and tea. All who come will be beautifully served.

At P. O. A. Convention.
The following past commanders of Camp 30, P. O. A., of Kingston, are attending a convention of the order in Trenton, N. J.—Mrs. Bertha Decker, Mrs. Carolyn Rappleyea, Mrs. Edna Woolsey and Mrs. Leah Jones. They left for the convention Monday morning, via Greyhound bus.

Rural Church Services.
"Some Thoughts on Autumn" will be the subject on which the Rev. Thomas S. Braithwaite will speak next Sunday morning and afternoon in the Mrumville and Lyonsville Churches at 11 o'clock and 2:15 p. m.

Speech.
Free speech is one of the great blessings of the American people and will continue to be such until somebody starts compulsory listening.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

HALL-MILLS CASE IS UNSOLVED MYSTERY

Many of Those Involved
Still Live Near Scene.

New Brunswick, N. J.—Ten years ago—Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, rector of St. John's Episcopal church here, and Eleanor K. Mills, his wife, were murdered under a crab apple tree on the Phillips farm, just off De Runney lane on the outskirts of town.

The mystery which surrounded the crime when the bodies were found two days after the double slaying remains unsolved despite investigations which resulted in the trial and acquittal of a man charged with the slaying of the widow, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, and her brothers, Henry and "Willie" Stevens.

Henry de la Bruyere Carpenter, a cousin of Mrs. Hall, who was indicted with her and her brothers, never was tried, but the indictment against him was quashed after his kinsmen had been found not guilty of the murder of Mrs. Mills by a Somerset county jury. A second indictment accusing all four with the murder of Mr. Hall also was nolleprossed after the trial.

The investigation failed to reveal who fired the shots which killed Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills or who slained the woman's throat, but it focused attention of the country upon a strangely assorted group of characters whose private lives were exposed to public view and turned topsy-turvy. Some of them are still trying, after ten years, to forget and make others forget the parts they played in the celebrated case.

Mrs. Hall, who is now sixty-six, still lives at 45 Nicholl avenue, New Brunswick, the house from which her husband set forth to keep the trust from which he never returned alive. She still wears black as though in mourning and devotes most of her time to charitable work. Strangers often stop before the gate and stare at the big house in the sheltering shrubbery.

Mrs. Hall's brother Henry, now sixty-three, lives with his family at Lavallette, the New Jersey coast resort from which he was taken to jail in the fall of 1926. He spends most of his time fishing and hunting and appears to be in better health than he was at the time of his trial. Her younger brother, the eccentric "Willie" lives with Mrs. Hall in New Brunswick.

Still Visits Firemen.
He has not changed much in appearance or habits. He makes frequent visits to Fire House No. 3, where before the murder he spent hours talking with friends among the firemen. At other times he works in the garden of his sister's home or accompanies her on charitable errands wearing a black felt hat, a frock coat, dark trousers.

Mr. Carpenter, a retired Wall Street broker, was said to have lost heavily in the market crash of 1929. In that year, too, he was stricken with paralysis which crippled him and made speech difficult. He is fifty-nine years old and lives in Somerville, N. J.

Mills, the husband of the slain choir leader, still lives in his shabby second-floor apartment at 40 Carman street, a few blocks from the more pretentious home of Mrs. Hall. Somewhat grayer and thinner, he is still janitor of the public school across the way and is a regular churchgoer, firm in the conviction that the murder will never be solved.

His daughter Charlotte, now twenty-eight, is a stenographer working and living in New York. Occasionally she visits her father and brother, Danny, a tall, slim youth of twenty-two. Charlotte has not married.

Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman," who was carried into court on a stretcher to testify that she saw Mrs. Hall and her brother "Willie" near the scene of the murder on the night the minister and his inamorata were killed, died of cancer in Jersey City hospital February 7, 1930. She never recanted the story which the jurors at the trial of Mrs. Hall and her brothers refused to accept. Joseph E. Stricker and Amariah M. Beckman, prosecutors respectively of Middlesex and Somerset counties, who conducted the first investigation which failed to result in any indictments, also have passed away.

Balloon Tied to Fish
Guides Angler to Catch

Fergus Falls, Minn.—Local fishermen learned the method allegedly used by one of their number, who recently has returned from each trip with limit catches.

Spies not to watch the successful angler reported that he attached an inflated toy balloon to the tail of his first catch and then followed the balloon about the lake until its bearer came to a halt in a school of his fellows. The angler reported the angler then took his limit. They have offered to sign affidavits as to the veracity of their reports.

Indians Ask for Bison
Preserve in Wyoming

Greybull, Wyo.—A buffalo reservation may be established in the Crow Indian reservation east of the Big Horn river.

The Indians suggested the preserve be established and offered to gladly give up a portion of their land providing they be permitted to kill some of the bison for food.

Only bison is source of the number the range could conveniently hold would be slaughtered.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS FALL MEMBERSHIP RALLY

A cast of approximately 60 will take part in the fall membership rally of the Y. W. C. A. on Monday night, October 24, and rehearsals are under way for the production. The title of the entertainment will be called "The Friendship Express" and will be in two parts, the first a one-act play "All Alone" and the second "All Together," a pageant of the 49 different countries in which Y. W. C. A. organizations may be found. The cast for the one act play will be as follows:

Mollie Gladys Hopper
Betty Frieda Niebergall
The Poster Girl
Mrs. Jessie Cowley Wolfenstein
Taki-San Miss Jean Ward
Blum Elita Bishop
Maria Caroline Port

The second part of the entertainment will consist of songs, dances, and recitations, the program of which will be announced later. The act will be international in character.

The Y. W. C. A. Membership Rally will be open to all members and all friends of the association, and a large attendance is anticipated. The dances and costumes will be in charge of Mrs. Howard A. Lewis.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BENNETT HERE FRIDAY EVENING

Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., now a candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket, will arrive at the Governor Clinton Hotel about 6 o'clock Friday evening and will be the guest of Mayor Eugene B. Carey during his stay here.

A public reception will be tendered Mr. Bennett at the Governor Clinton Hotel upon his arrival. After the reception an informal dinner will be held. The friends of Mr. Bennett, veterans of the World War and the members of the Ulster County Bar Association are invited to meet the Attorney General at the hotel and dine with him afterwards, if they so wish.

Following the reception and dinner the Attorney General, who is a former State Commander of the American Legion, will attend the regular meeting of Kingston Post of the American Legion, which is being held that night.

On Wednesday past Mrs. Herman Glans was hostess to the Evening Bridge Club.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

A Simple Frock

7655. This youthful model combines a bloused waist topped by round yoke portions, and a two-piece straight-line skirt mounted on a yoke in pointed outline. Tiny tucks trim the front of the waist. The sleeve is a one-piece fitted model. A narrow belt marks the waistline. In this illustration the model is wearing a simple frock.

Mergers in Color Save the Day

New York—The practice of combining colors, one in which we all seem delighted to indulge, certainly is a life saver when it comes to remodeling. It eliminates that ghastly business of dashing from shop to shop trying to match material so that a very up-to-date renovation may be made.

It does take courage, or daring, to mix one's own color schemes though. When we have an authority on which to fall back all is well, but when it comes to using pink and red, for instance together on our own authority, we hesitate. You remember, of course, all the greens with browns worn last winter? They are to continue. Patou seems to have scored with a new brown, called copper beach, a sort of cocoa shade. It is liked, especially when combined with pink. Schiaparelli uses quite a different brown with a tawny gold shade and so many women seem to like it that one does not hesitate in mentioning it as one of the very best combines the season offers.

Whenever two or three stylists are gathered together, they may be counted on sooner or later to discuss gray. It is expected to justify all this conversation and to be introduced more frequently, not only with brown, as it is now or with red and black as it also is, but with all manner of colors.

If you are one of those who have a white evening dress, a hang-over from last summer or even last winter, add some bold and brilliant color contrast and the situation is saved. Both red and green continue to be very popular night colors, but then so is sapphire blue which is really newer.

Red and pink have been done before, but the combination remains well at the top of the list of good color alliances. Purple and red is marvelous if you happen to like it, green and yellow is approved because it merits approval. In fact there is nothing but a good color sense to keep you from running wild among the glamorous colors with which the shops abound. Black for those who like it but something of color—or white somewhere, is the prescription for general consummation.

The Tunic Makes a Hit

The tunic is growing in importance in collections, and appears in daytime as well as evening groups, with much variety manifested. While the tunic is frequently considered as a woman's fashion, an interesting feature of the new tunic is the youthful quality, noted in types that have a briefer tunic, sometimes flaring and sometimes edged with fur. In evening fashions some of the most attractive gowns are made with a tunic with pleats introduced suggesting a Grecian influence.

IN RED AND SHRIMP

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild

Wine red rough crepe combined with pale shrimp satin is chosen for an afternoon gown which also makes an interesting feature of a short-sleeved which issues from another decorative detail, in this case a rolled surplice collar. The dropped shoulder line and slanted full above fitted in with pleats of the light satin are effective.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The endorsement of the vogue of light skirt with dark blouse has been reiterated in French resorts, all last summer, and is still emphasized in the early September season from Biarritz.

In Paris, new cloth coats are worn without fur trimmings. The fur capelet is added for wear with cloth dresses and suits, and furless coats.

stance black and white crepe are combined. Velvet is also suggested, and sheer wooleens are excellent for this style.

Designed in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 38 if made as in the large view will require 3 1/2 yards of 35 inch material and 1/4 yard of contrasting material. If made in monotone, it will require 4 yards. To finish with bias binding as shown in the large view, will require 3 1/4 yards 1 1/4 inch wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge is 1 2-3 yard.

ROOSEVELT-LEHMAN

CALLED BIGGEST SPENDERS

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 15 (P).—F. Trabee Davison, Republican candidate for Lieutenant governor, has told voters that Governor Roosevelt and Lieutenant Governor Herbert H. Lehman, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, have set "the world's record for spending in any state, anywhere."

Is an address to the Young Republican League last night, the assistant secretary of war assailed expenditures of the Democratic state administration. He said the cost of state government had mounted steadily during the last four years in spite of pruning by the Republican legislature.

Feminine Rip Van Winkle Recovering

Chicago, Oct. 15 (P).—Like Washington Irving's Rip Van Winkle, Miss Patricia McGuire, 37, who has been ill with sleeping sickness since last February 24, is going to have a lot of news to catch up on when she awakes from her long slumber.

Physicians who have attended her in her suburban home in Oak Park say there are unmistakable signs that she is awakening and her friends are wondering what her reactions will be to the many things that have happened since she fell asleep.

Since then many of her friends have been married or become engaged, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover were nominated for the presidency, platinum blouses have gone out of style and red heads have come in, the Chinese and Japanese have been at odds, military has switched from one side of the head to the other, and many other events have occurred.

For months physicians and nurses have been feeding her through tubes.

She is now able to turn over in bed. Yesterday she made an effort to talk to her mother.

HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, Oct. 15.—Mrs. William J. Frispatrick of Fairview Road was removed to the Benedictine Hospital on last Sunday suffering from a complication of diseases. Doctors Bush and Galvin are attending her.

On Broadway in Hollywood — no fear of Birthdays!

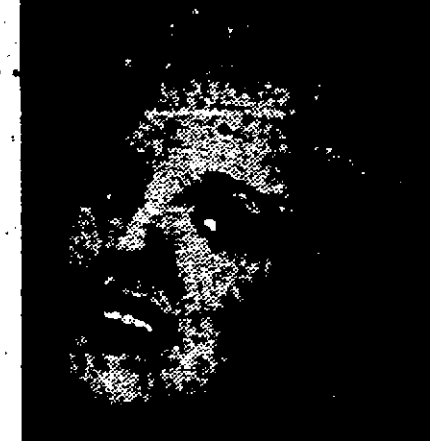

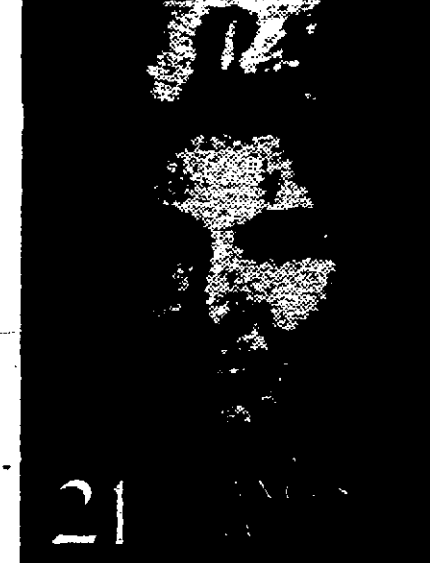

The Broadway and Hollywood stars know the secret of keeping youthful charm. Birthdays have no terror for them. "Guard your complexion above everything else," they will advise you. And even the youngest of them give their own peach-bloom skin the most zealous regular care.

"We use Lux Toilet Soap," they confide. Jeanne Aubert, Erin O'Brien Moore, Evelyn Herbert, dear to Broadway's heart, Estelle Taylor, Sidney Fox, Frances Dade, irresistible favorites of the screen.

The budget is $2,300 larger than anticipated because persons expecting that amount to last year's budget have failed to pay their dues.

Clarence Rowland Favors Scouting

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 8, 1932.

Never before in the history of the country was there greater need for organizations which tend to develop character and good citizenship than at the present time. All persons, who are able, should contribute to the Boy Scouts' financial campaign to enable them to carry on the effective work they are doing along these lines.

Rev. Brandorff in Favor of Scouting

Kingston, New York, October 18, 1932.

Boy Scouts of America, Ulster-Greene Council, 277 Fair Street, Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Friends:

We are all rooting for the success of your annual Finance Campaign which is being held.

Our boys can be either the city's greatest assets or the city's greatest liabilities. The Boy Scout movement is saving our boys from becoming liabilities by its constructive character building program. Therefore, a dollar invested in the Boy Scout movement will yield higher dividends than a dollar invested in some commercial enterprise.

We are hoping that the citizens of our country will so substantially invest in your movement that you will exceed your financial goal.

Sincerely,

(Signed) O. E. BRANDORFF,

President, Kingston Kiwanis Club.

Kingston, N. Y., October 18, 1932.

Scout Executive, Wm. A. Wright,

277 Fair Street,

Kingston, N. Y.

My dear Mr. Wright:

I wish to take this opportunity to commend the Boy Scout program in general as a wholesome form of activity and training for growing boys, and also to commend your personal management of the affairs of the Ulster-Greene council. I trust that the financial campaign will be a great success, and enable the council to continue and enlarge the great work which is being done for boys in these two counties.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) ARTHUR S. COLE,

Minister, First Baptist Church.

Rose And Gorman Birthday Gift

To commemorate its 20th birthday and to make the event have a lasting effect upon the thousands of patrons, the Rose & Gorman store has selected a charming souvenir which will be given to shoppers during its 20th birthday sales.

The souvenirs are framed pictures of beautiful views—the countryside with brook and forest—rural winter scenes—the good warm fireside at Yuletide—and another is the White Tower, in its exquisite setting, and never-to-be-forgotten reflections.

And they are useful, too, for a dainty little calendar is affixed, with a ribbon, to the bottom of the picture frame and within the frame, and to one side is a cute little gold thermometer.

During the three sale days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, all the men of these parts will be hunting through the big store for their wives—they will all be there after bargains and souvenirs.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets).

The following quotations represent prices on sales by commission merchants and other original receivers on the New York city downtown wholesale district up to 8 a. m.

Yellow onion receipts were moderate but trading continued slow. Although apple trading was generally slow, price fluctuations were small on fancy quality fruit.

Total apple holdings under refrigeration for the entire country on October 1 were equivalent to 1,750,000 barrels or about 17 per cent less than a year ago, but 7 per cent above the five-year average. Bored apples in cold storage were 38 per cent lighter than in 1931 and only 9 per cent above average. Stocks in bushel baskets were 11 per cent more abundant than a year ago and 48 per cent greater than the average.

Peaches weakened due to limited demand rather than excessive supplies. The market was dull on state pears of most varieties, crab apples, plums, prunes and quinces.

Attempt to Kill Former Premier

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 19 (AP).—An attempt to assassinate former Premier Stephen Bethlen was made in a law court this morning.

Count Bethlen resigned as head of the ministry August 19, after ten years service. He was succeeded by Count János Karolyi.

The would-be assassin, Louis Eskuti, private secretary to the former minister of agriculture, approached the count through the crowd in the courtroom, to which Bethlen had been called to testify as a witness.

A policeman saw Eskuti with a dagger, leaped on him and prevented the thrust. The man was reported to desire to satisfy a private grudge. Bethlen was the dean of government leaders in Europe before his resignation. Since 1921, when the king, polyglot and statesman made his first parliamentary speech as premier, he carried Hungary out of internal strife, pulled her away from bankruptcy and led her to her present position.

He was credited with much of the rehabilitation of the country after the wreckage of the World War in Hungary. Later Eskuti denied drawing the knife and said he always carried it for his own protection.

SPORT SLANTS
By Alvin J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Who is the better first baseman of the two, Bill Terry of the Giants or Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, taking into consideration their hitting as well as fielding ability? Inquires J. M. of New Haven.

Personally, with the 1932 season fresh in mind, we would prefer Gehrig to Terry, although Jimmie Foxx would be our choice over either one, if the field is thrown open.

Gehrig has the edge over his rival across the river, however, because of his greater durability and consistency, his longer range hitting of the type that more often breaks up the old ball game.

In other words, Gehrig's lack of the defensive polish and speed that characterizes Terry's play is not sufficient to offset his bigger threat at the plate. The batting averages do not show an advantage for either but in the home run and run-batted-in departments the big Yankee slugger has a decided margin.

Terry's fielding, in the opinion of some unbiased critics, has frequently equalled anything in the repertoire of Hal Chase, who set the standard in fashionable performances for all first basemen. The Giant manager, however, has not been so consistently brilliant on the defense within the past year or so as he was at his peak in 1930, when he also batted .491.

Gehrig's fielding figures for 1931-32 were slightly better than those of Terry, measured by the mechanical yardstick of chances accepted, but Memphis Bill must still be given the defensive edge.

Rock and Neck
There is a striking coincidence in the batting marks of Gehrig and Terry, each of whom made his first home run in the New York baseball custom, on trial, in 1923, and each of whom has just rounded out ten seasons in the major leagues.

For the nine-year period up to this year, each showed a hitting average of .342. This season Gehrig finished third in the American league race with an unofficial .350. Terry was runner-up to Lefty O'Doul in the National league with a mark of .349. The Giant pilot collected more hits but Gehrig scored and drove in more runs.

Their offensive records are so remarkably close that over a ten-year stretch Gehrig has rapped out 1553 hits and Terry 1553.

Consistency His Jewel
The Yankee first sacker makes up in his consistency and reliability what he lacks in power and agility. Starting June 1, 1925, Gehrig has now finished playing 1197 consecutive games, exclusive of 19 others in four world's series. Barring an accident he figures to pass Everett Scott's world record of 1307 games some time around the first of next August.

Gehrig has led the American league four times in the vital department of runs batted in, within the past seven years. Only Ruth, Simmons and Foxx, in separate years, have topped the Yankee cleanup clouter in this respect. Terry, of course, is one of the most dangerous batsmen in baseball but over the stretch of the past half dozen years his records are not so impressive as those of his Yankee rival.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Brockton, Mass.—Joe Malciewicz, Cuban, won from Boris Demetoff, Bulgarian (Malciewicz won first fall, Demetoff unable to continue).

New Haven, Conn.—Pat McLary, 265, Ireland, threw Mattos Kirilenko, 219, Russia, 15-20.

New York—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, 235, Los Angeles, threw Roland (Blackhawk), 224, Oklahoma, 19-57.

PUNTS
and PASSES

(By The Associated Press)
Newton, Mass.—The fates seem to have been in for Ray Harrington, Boston College substitute back. On Tuesday he almost won a place in the starting lineup for the Marquette game by making a great showing in scrimmage, but the next afternoon he turned up with an injured knee and was declared out of that contest.

Pittsburgh—The Pitt team has looked pretty tough to all its opponents so far but it now develops that Captain Paul Kelder wasn't in condition to play his best game. Yesterday was the first time since he injured an ankle early in the season that he has been able to go through a full afternoon's scrimmage.

New York—After missing only two years since 1916, Columbia and Williams are going to split up after Saturday's game. Williams has chosen Princeton for its annual "big opponent" next season.

Worcester, Mass.—The Holy Cross football squad has gone in for classroom work and doesn't think much of it. When rain forced the practice indoors yesterday, a vacant classroom was the only place available and quarters were somewhat cramped.

West Point, N. Y.—The spectators who saw Army play Pitt last Saturday would hardly recognize the Army team now. During yesterday's drill, Jablonsky, guard, and Vidal, quarterback, remained on the side lines because of injuries while the regular tackle, Lincoln, and Armstrong, didn't report at all.

Hanover, N. H.—Maybe they grow tough at Dartmouth as they grow older, but Coach Vic Hanson has decided to make it a wide open contest for the starting places against Penn State. Only two men, he says, are reasonably sure of being in there. They are Tindall, a guard, and Wamsack at center.

Easton, Pa.—Lafayette is looking for vengeance against Bucknell Saturday in addition to wanting to wipe out last week's defeat by Colgate. The last time the Blairstown and Leopards met, Bucknell won a 6-1 decision.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Since the men who had been chosen as regulars at Syracuse failed to win their last two games, Coach Vic Hanson has decided to make it a wide open contest for the starting places against Penn State. Only two men, he says, are reasonably sure of being in there. They are Tindall, a guard, and Wamsack at center.

High School Held
Light Drill Tuesday

Coach G. Warren Kias put the boys through a light drill Tuesday afternoon on the field in the rear of the school in their first workout of the week previous to the Middletown High game Saturday afternoon on the Middlesex gridiron. This will be Kingston's first DUSO League game of the season and a game that really counts. However, there is some trouble brewing between the Middlesex and Kingston about ineligibility and if the case is not settled the game may not be played.

A meeting of the DUSO League Council is being held tonight in Newburgh to settle the matter. All the coaches, principals and superintendents of the schools in the league will be present. From Kingston, Superintendent E. C. Van Ingen, Principal Clarence Dumm and Coach G. Warren Kias, will be there to represent the interests of the Maroon. Kingston has declared Capponzella, Middletown center, ineligible and Port Jervis, Mack Wagner, left halfback, of the blue and white.

The latest report about Mack Wagner is that he is out for the season with a bad knee. He received the injury in the New Rochelle game two week ago and has been on the sidelines since. This may eliminate Port Jervis's charge against Middletown, of Wagner being too old to play. Kingston seeks to prove that Capponzella has played five years.

Boys See Pictures

Before the drill Tuesday afternoon, Coach Kias and the boys saw moving pictures of the Schenectady game as taken by Principal Clarence Dumm of the local high school. This is Mr. Dumm's hobby and he is quite expert. The boys get a thrill in seeing themselves in action. The pictures also show up flaws in the plays very plainly and the coach can work on these wrong movements in the formations. If a man isn't doing his job that's also revealed.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Youngstown, O.—Babe Tricaro, Cleveland, and Johnny Edwards, Charleston, W. Va., drew, (10).

New York—Red Barry, Washington, D. C., outpointed Justin Struth, New York, (6).

Los Angeles—Alberto Arizmendi, Mexico, outpointed Newboy Brown, (10).

Fort Worth, Tex.—Gas Campbell, Miami, Fla., outpointed Wildcat Monte, Dumas, (10).

Terre Haute, Ind.—Tracy Cox, Indianapolis, knocked out Cez Smalwood, Babberton, O., (1).

Baltimore—Abe Coleman, 203, Kansas City, threw Dick Davis, 225, Los Angeles, 38-60.

Going Over Big

Sentiment Against Broadcasting Games

Chicago, Oct. 19 (AP)—The banning of radio from the American League baseball parks next season is to come up for serious consideration at the annual meeting of the league in December, President William Harridge indicated today.

There is growing sentiment, President Harridge said, against the broadcasting of baseball games. The eastern half of the league is solidly opposed to the radio, three of the clubs—Philadelphia, New York and Washington—even forbid telegraphic reports to be filed out of the park for broadcasting purposes.

"I cannot forecast how the club owners will vote," President Harridge said, "but it would not surprise me if all the clubs voted to throw out the broadcasters. Several baseball leaders contend that broadcasting kept thousands of persons away from the world's series games in New York, particularly the first game, when the weather was threatening right up to game time."

Sing Sing Welfare
League Gets $1,117.50

The Mutual Welfare League of Sing Sing prison realized $1,117.50 on the football game between the inmates and the Port Jervis police team last Sunday afternoon. The coppers collected $384.50 for their expenses.

Great preparations are being made by the prisoners to defeat the Kingston Yellow Jackets next Sunday.

Jimmie Foxx and
Chuck Klein Chosen
Most Valuable Men

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—A committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America has designated Jimmie Foxx of the Athletics as the American League's most valuable player in 1932, thereby turning this year's major league selections into an all-Philadelphia affair.

Foxx polled a total of 75 points of a possible 80 to win the American League award by a decisive margin from Lou Gehrig of the Yankees who received 55 points.

Klein Leads Nationals
Chuck Klein of the Phillies has been announced as the committee's choice as the National League's most valuable player. Announcement of both winners was made by J. Roy Stockton of St. Louis, chairman of the selection committee in each league.

Foxx's winning total was made up of five first choices, one second and two thirds. Gehrig was picked for second place by a 14 point margin over Heinie Manush of the Senators with Earl Averill of the Indians fourth with 27; Lefty Gomez fifth with 27, and Joe Cronin, Senators, and Babe Ruth, Yankees, tied for sixth with 26.

Foxx Made 34 Homers

Foxx enjoyed his most spectacular season in the campaign just closed. He was named out for the league batting championship in the closing days of the season by Dale Alexander of the Red Sox, but clouted 58 home runs, only two below Ruth's all-time record, led both leagues in runs batted in with 167 and compiled a batting average of .364.

Winners Since 1922

Players who have won the American League most valuable player contest since 1922, including the official awards up to 1928 and those of the Baseball Writers' Association since then, follow: 1922, George Sisler, St. Louis; 1923, Babe Ruth, New York; 1924, Walter Johnson, Washington; 1925, Roger Peckinpaugh, Washington; 1926, George Burns, Cleveland; 1927, Lou Gehrig, New York; 1928, Mickey Cochrane, Philadelphia; 1929, Lew Fonseca, Cleveland; 1930, Joe Cronin, Washington; 1931, Lefty Grove, Philadelphia; 1932, Jimmie Foxx, Philadelphia.

"Wasps" Prepare for Sing Sing Game in
2 Drills This Week

Two practices will be held by the Yellow Jackets this week in preparation for their first away-from-home game Sunday afternoon at Sing Sing prison against the eleven from the "Big House" which has not dropped a contest this season.

Tonight at 7:30 the first practice will be held on the North Manor avenue field and the second will be held later in the week at the call of Coach "Big Bill" O'Reilly, who requests that all players be present for both drills. Don Henry and "Alabama" Christmas will make special trips from West Point, where they are members of the Artillery detachment, to attend the practices.

Every member of the Yellow Jacket squad is highly enthused over the Sing Sing game and indications are that the boys of Warden Lewis E. Lawes will meet their hardest opposition in the "Wasps" of Lou Kantrowitz. The prisoners, too, are more than eager to win over the released "Wasps" and are practicing daily under the vigilance of Johnny Law, former Notre Dame star. Indications are that the game will be one worth seeing.

Kingston fans wishing to follow the Yellow Jackets down the river will find three or four big buses leaving the Kantrowitz clothing store on North Front street Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock. The transportation fee is reasonable.

Starting time of the game is 2 o'clock. The Sing Sing eleven will be escorted to the field by the prison band and led by the little daughter of Warden Lawes.

Mercantile Games
Scheduled Tonight

Matches in the National division of the Mercantile Bowling League are scheduled for tonight at the Y. M. C. A. as follows:

Kingston High School Faculty No. 1 vs. Modern Electric and Forst's Packing Company vs. Kingston High School Faculty No. 2 at 7 o'clock. Canfield No. 1 vs. Sweeney & Schonger and Telephone No. 1 vs. Kingston Trust Company at 9 o'clock. International matches will be rolled Thursday and American matches Friday.
